WESTERN CAPE FUTURES SYMPOSIUM

We are happy to announce that members from Space Centre Australia will be presenting at the Western Cape Futures Symposium. The Futures Symposium provides an opportunity to shine a spotlight on our region, and explore the opportunities, potential and barriers to regional development in the Western Cape, by connecting Innovators, Industry Leaders, Government, Traditional Owners, Local Business and Community. It will also focus on some key issues impacting our region, such as the current increase in tourism and related strain on resources and infrastructure. Highlighting the need, opportunities, and benefits that a sustainable tourism management plan could provide. And it will explore the options around transitioning towards a more diverse and sustainable economy, enabling new industry and investment into the region.

Our CEO James Palmer and Business Development Director Nick Mullings will be speaking about the Space Centre Australia Project and highlighting the new industries and opportunities it will bring to the region.
